

English

This week, we were continuing with the book 'Click, Clack, Moo, Cows That Type.' We were using this to then write a poem of our own. We discussed our ideas in groups and then wrote our own verses, thinking very carefully about our word choice. We then performed our poem to the class!

P.S.H.E.

Today we were focusing upon the Rights and Responsibilities strand of Catholic Social Teaching. We thought of the different rights and everyone has and all the responsibilities we have in life. We drew self-portraits and thought about what makes a special treasure.

Physical Education

This week we were developing our changing of direction as part of our Athletics half term's topic. We were focusing on pushing off quickly in order to change direction and keeping our chest and head up in the direction we were moving.

Writing Competition

This week we have been completing our competition stories. We wrote our beginning, middle and end paragraphs about the mystery door. We then wrote and published our story, using our very best handwriting. We will bring our stories home next week!

Rise Theatre Show

Today we were treated to a visit by Rise Theatre to perform all about Catholic Social Teaching. We watched two performances in the morning and afternoon about all the principles as well as combining this with work in class.

Religious Education

This week we continued our Religious Education topic of 'Dialogue and Encounter.' We were learning about the meaning of the Sign of the Cross and other symbols associated with it. We drew our own artistic impression of a cross. We have also been learning about how we are part of a global Christian community. We discovered there are 157 countries around the world that are Christian and coloured and labelled the continents on a map.

Maths

We have been learning about quarter turns, half turns, quarter turns and full turns. We have also been looking at the direction of 'clockwise' and 'anticlockwise'. We were moving different objects either clockwise or anticlockwise and then the amount of quarter turns needed.

Talk on Tuesday

As part of our Oracy 21 project, we were discussing this week's 'Talk on Tuesday' question: do you think England will win the World Cup? We debated why England would or would not win - what is your opinion?
