

English

This week, we continued our topic of 'Instructions.' First we wrote sentences about how we can great fruit salad terrible tusks, like from the Gruffalo. Then we wrote sentences to give commands when we ask someone to follow our instructions. We finally joined ideas with the word 'and'.

Science

We began our new topic 'Animals Including Humans.' We were identifying and naming some common animals. We named the groups of animals including fish, mammals, birds, reptiles and amphibians, identifying what groups animals belong to.

P.E.

We began this half term's new topic called 'Team Building.' We considered what skills we need in order to be successful when working in team, such as listening, sharing and cooperation. We put these skills into paired activities using equipment.

Computing

This week we began the first lesson of this half term with our E-Safety lesson about 'Relationships and Communication' focusing about device advice and why we pause for people. We reflected on strategies on how to be an active listener even when using a device and practised this.

Italian

This week we were learning about La Befana, who she is and how she is linked to the feast of Epiphany. We learned the words to a song about her in Italian.

Religious Education

We began this half term with our Catholic Social Teaching lesson about Solidarity and Peace. We thought about what the word 'peace' means and when we have felt peaceful. We listened to a story called 'God's Dream'. From this, we discussed what it is that God wants. We wrote this on a dove, as well as our own promise about how to help to make God's dream of peace come true.

Maths

We have been primarily learning about placing numbers on a blank number line from 0-20. We have used our understanding of place value and number sense to help us. We also looked at the values of different Cuisenaire Rods, making equivalent values of one rod with two, three and even four other rods.

P.S.H.E.

We began this half term's new topic called 'Dreams and Goals.' We thought about how we can set simple goals. We were able to talk about something that we do well and are successful at.
